Single room 99,00 € - 140,00 € (breakfast included)

This hotel, often referred to as a “gallery where you can spend the night”, is located in one of the city’s most exciting neighbourhoods. It is within sight of the Reichstag building, the Spree river, Friedrichstrasse, Unter den Linden and the Brandenburg Gate. This is a historic location that is once again attracting attention with top-notch architecture, both old and new, on both sides of the Spree. The most important trends in politics, culture, media and business come together here.

All rooms were decorated by a renowned artist, whereby the entire room was included in the artistic concept. Every room is thus an original, united only by the high artistic standards with which the concepts have been carried out in each room. Sculptures in the lobby and philosophic quotes in the stairwell accompany guests on the way to their rooms. Our conference venue is 10 minutes away (walking distance).

English reticence combines with southern extravagance in this expensively restored building. The larger rooms that look onto the street and the smaller quieter rooms with a view over the garden are individual and imaginative, furnished partly with pieces taken from the fund of a theatre. A spacious, luxuriantly planted garden courtyard has been developed from the topsoil of a nursery which was here in the 1960's, part of the famous Spaeth'sche horticultural firm. Our conference venue close and Friedrichstrasse station is one station away.
